

Changes to Operation of Pay Parking in Dungarvan

Waterford City and County Council have introduced changes in the way the “first 1/2 hour free” parking in Dungarvan operates.

From now on, if you wish to park for less than 30 minutes you may avail of the free 30 minutes by just going to a pay and display machine and pressing the green button. A parking ticket will issue without entering any money and this ticket must be displayed.

If you wish to park for longer than the free 30 minutes, you can pay in increments starting from 30c for 16 minutes up to €1.10 for 1 hour additional parking. The free 30 minutes will automatically be added to the time on your ticket

All cars parked will have to have a pay and display ticket displayed.

At the end of any parking period, the vehicle must be moved, and cannot return to the same street or car park for a period of 1 hour.

These changes are designed to help end the confusion for both residents and visitors who were paying for parking, but the ticket wasn't showing the correct time they had left to park.

It also allows people to pay for less than the full hour that they previously had to pay for, if they wanted to park for a shorter period.
